F. L. Woerner Is "Counted Out" after Forty-one Years of Service

Logan, W. Va., July 19 (A)-Professor F. L. Woerner, who in 1911 organized the Logan high school, which he served as principal until 1926, has been "counted out" by a doctor after forty-one years of

And this "K. O." Woerner admits, will probably be permanent not like other instances in which he was forced into inactivity; from which he always bounced back.

Woerner headed the "Ninth grade" at the Logan school after coming here from Berkeley Springs, and the first class was graduated in 1915.

"Some of the sixteen members of the first Logan class walwed as far as five miles to attend classes," the professor recalled.

Hardship Seen

"I saw this was a hardship, and so provided that starting time for classes would be at 10 o'clock a. m." he said. Those early pupils recall that here's what happened: The local authorities decided that anyone who should arrive after 9 o'clock should be sent home, wherepon. Woerner took off his coat and offered to whip the man who said they couldn't stay for classes.

They stayed. In 1926, Woerner was made superntendent of Logan schools, but reurned in the fall of the same year o the principalship.

In 1928, a critical political administration left his name off the teaching list, precipitating a futile strike by Logan students

Made Principal

Woerner failed to regain his job, but before long was made principal

Clapper declared that "the so-called collecmuch more than a collective grouch against the been put into use at Austin, Tex., a city smaller And when a man reaches it, only to White House."

It also "amounts mostly to a pact between the Republicans and disgruntled Democrats to fire stations, and a two-way communication with discredit the president any way they can," the fire apparatus. Clapper stated, "no matter what the effect may

Also "if you want to know what Congress will do with a given measure, about all you need to do is to find out where Mr. Roosevelt stands and then predict the opposite.

This is great stuff. It fits right in with the Times's New Deal apologies. Everything wrong with the New Deal, the whole blame for the terrible mess it has made, is due to Congress, not the president and his coterie of sophomoric brain trusters. Oh, this is hot stuff and the Times points out how really fair about everything Raymond Clapper is. He "should need no introduction to the newspaper-reading public," it explains. "Clapper is Washington correspondent for the Scripps-Howard papers, and his treatment of the administration has been so very fair, friendly and liberal that the regular appearance of his articles in the Scripps-Howard papers is a source of amazement.'

Even so; but look at what Clapper says. There is a "collective grouch" in Congress against the president. But why should there be? There must be a reason for it. In fact there are a plenty. If there is a pact between Republicans and "disgruntled Democrats," why should there be any disgruntled Democrats?

If the president were doing the right things there should be no combined opposition to him in the Congress, and particularly among the members of his own party who are obliged to join the opposition party to register their disapproval of his course. "Collective wisdom" is of course an affront to the all-wise, all-powerful executive who is supposed to be operating the whole works on his own hook regardless.

PROFESSOR HARLEY L. LUTZ, of Princeton University, offers an illuminating analysis of the latest Roosevelt spending-lending proposal, characterizing the scheme as basically unsound and as inherently misleading and deceptive.

"The country has become increasingly suspicious of mounting deficits and inability to balance the budget," declares Professor Lutz. won't be the fault of all these atom-smashing career Byrd found for himself "Now the deficit is to be ended and the budget scientists and hair-splitting international states- when the Navy regretfully turned balanced by the simple trick of putting the men. deficit outside of the budget. scheme is that the federal taxpayers will incur no obligation, current or future, with respect to the proposed financing. But this is not the case, for they are to be obligated, whether they realize it or not. To call the new projects self-liquidating does not reall the new projects self-liquidating does not reall the level to the keys.

All of which is merely another way of saying that any attempt to induce prosperity by deficit spending is sure to increase the burdens of John Q. Taxpayer no matter how plausible the case advanced by political mathematicians may seem to be.

Sooner or later the nation will have to end its current effort at fiscal juggling and resume the sound technique of balancing the budget by cost reduction and administrative frugality. That is the only sure road to national solvency and stability.

If the president can't get along with Congress, if he can't get along with members of his own party, then he is not the kind of president we should have in the White House, for if harmony was ever needed in the operation of the federal government, it certainly is needed now.

Mr. Taxpayer the Goat

PROFESSOR HARLEY L. LUTZ, of Princeton University, offers an illuminating analysis of the latest Roosevelt spending-lending proposal, characterizing the scheme as basically unsound and as inherently misleading and deceptive.

"The country has become increasingly suspicious of mounting deficits and inability to balance the budget," declares Professor Lutz. "Now the deficit is to be ended and the budget balanced by the simple trick of putting the men. deficit outside of the budget. The idea is to authorize federal credit agencies to issue bonds guaranteed by the United States, and to advance blue." Well, Mars should know. He made us There have been Byrds in America the proceeds for the construction of the pro- what we are today. posed projects. Thus the direct debt of the government will not be increased and it may be possible for the administration to announce, in a critical election year, that at last it has balanced the budget.

"The implication of the new borrowing scheme is that the federal taxpayers will incur no obligation, current or future, with respect to blue on the other. . . . You hold it carefully between to its luster. But few, if any, have the proposed financing. But this is not the case, your fingers and it smudges a little. You place it the proposed financing. But this is not the case, for they are to be obligated, whether they realize it or not. To call the new projects self-liquidating does not make them so."

All of which is merely another way of saying that any attempt to induce prosperity by deficit spending is sure to increase the burdens of John Q. Taxpayer no matter how plausible the case advanced by political mathematicians may seem to be.

Sooner or later the nation will have to end its current effort at fiscal juggling and resume the sound technique of balancing the budget by cost reduction and administrative frugality. That is the only sure road to national solvency and stability.

By HELEN FOLLETT

YOUR TEACHER of pulchritude refers frequently to treatment of fatted calves because shortskirted plumpies are making such a fuss about them. Madame Fashion always has it in for the fat girls. When she hoisted skirt hems almost to the knees, she must have had the idea that all feminine creatures have perfect legs. Which, alas! happens not to be the case.

If you would woo slenderness, get out and play hop scotch. Or stay indoors and play hop scotch. Hop on one foot until the calves are fatigued, then plug along on the other hoof. This practice will wear down adipose tissues. It will tighten up muscles that have gone slack. Use the tape line before starting on this campaign for better anatomical

There are other means of com-batting this trouble. Get a small rolling pin and use it, pressing firmly into the flesh. Fat cells can be crushed if treatment continues long enough. After the rolling pick up the flesh and pinch it. Finish with a rub with moistened salt.

The trouble with the heavyweights is that excess poundage does not inspire an expenditure of energy. And it takes energy to burn up adipose tissue. A sad, sad story.

Wooing Slenderness "Hot Tamale" Records Interesting

By HELEN FOLLETT

YOUR TEACHER of pulchriide refers frequently to treatment fatted calves because shortskirted plumpies are making such a fuss about them. Madame Fashion always has it in for the fat girls. When she hoisted skirt hems almost to the knees, she must have had the idea that all feminine creatures have perfect legs. Which, alas! happens not to be the case.

If you would woo slenderness, get out and play hop scotch. Or stay indoors and play hop scotch. Hop on one foot until the calves are fatigued, then plug along on the other hoof. This practice will wear down adipose tissues. It will tighten muscles that have gone slack. Use the tape line before starting on this campaign for better anatomical There are other means of combatting this trouble. Get a small rolling pin and use it, pressing firmly into the flesh. Fat cells can be crushed if treatment continues long enough. After the rolling pick up the flesh and pinch it. Finish with a rub with moistened salt.

The trouble with the heavyweights is that excess poundage does not inspire an expenditure of energy . And it takes energy to burn up adipose tissue. A sad, sad story.

The best way to select rouge and lipstick is to go to a beauty shop where a special booth is reserved for cash customers who are seeking complexion highlights. The patrons can dip into open containers, make tests, come to conclusions that will help them make the beauty grade. Pinch the flesh on the cheek until it glows. You will observe your natural blush tone then and can get acquainted with it. Lay the pigment on the other cheek, give a thoughtful look-see, note how near the synthetic rosiness comes to the natural

Ritz of Paris Now On Screen for First Time

It's been a long time in getting there, but Paris' most famous hotel, the Ritz, which has even been responsible for the addition of a slang term to the English language, is at last shown on the screen! It serves as the background for several important scenes in the new Paramount comedy, "Midnight," which is now at the Garden Theatre

For many years American pro ducers have sought the right not only to photograph the "ritzy" hotel but to use its name on the screen. Always the Ritz has figuratively put its nose in the air and said "no." The result has been the use of manufactured names on the screen, such as the "Colchester Plaza," the "Manchester Manor" and what have you.

a Kelly tire still going strong after 81,456 miles. In the inset, a close-up view shows plenty of tread remaining. When taken off the rim recently, it was found that more than 1/4 inch of rust had accumulated in 8 years of uninterrupted service.

We'll admit this record is unusual, but it proves our point-"Kellys Are Tough."

Today's Kellys are even better. New, low-stretch cord, tough Armorrubber tread, and an improved shape that gives a wider, flatter tread with more rubber on the road, makes today's Kellys at least 30% longer wearing.

Suited To Our Age

Mr. Frank Mattingly Mr. Jacob Hafer

Not the least of the duties of the funeral director is to keep in touch with the latest developments which will contribute to the comfort and well-being of his patrons. We *are always alert to this responsibility, and our equipment reflects the progressive spirit of our profession. At every point in our service, personal effort is supplemented by the most modern and efficient devices. Our side servicing funeral coach, which eliminates the necessity for the bearers to carry the casket out into the street, is a notable example of our willingness to protect the welfare of those whom we serve and to supply this community with the complete and efficient service to which it is entitled.

Most Workers To Keep Jobs, City Indicates After 'Get-Together'

hanging onto their jobs appeared brighter here today following a "get-together" yesterday by Mayor Harry Irvine, City Council, and WPA Area Representative F. W

Following a conference in the Mayor's office, Charles Z. Heskett, city attorney, and Mr. Springer issued a joint statement to the effect that the city administration and WPA officials were of the opinion that a way could be worked out.

Meeting each other half way, the administration pledged $3,000 a month to keep city projects going and Mr. Springer agreed to assist in "reformulating and coordinating" a number of city plojects, some approved and some unapproved.

Vote $3,000 Monthly

Voting to carry the program on a monthly basis, Council pledged $3,000 every 30 days. This amount will be taken from the General Improvement Bond Account

Members To Ballot At State Armory On New Pact

Members of Local 1874, Celanese Workers Industrial Union today will vote on a proposed contract for employes of the Celanese Corporation of America.

General meetings will be held today at the State Armory where members will vote on the new con-

There was no official statement from the management of the union, but it was reliably reported that the proposed contract contains wage increases for workers in several departments. Other details of the contract were not divulged.

The terms of contracts covering two departments have been "initialed" by the management and the union negotiators, it was reported. The employes will vote whether to accept or reject the pact.

The previous contract expired last August and was extended at intervals during the lengthy negotiations between company officials and inion committees since that time.

> Members To Ballot At State Armory On New Pact

Members of Local 1874, Celanese Workers Industrial Union today will vote on a proposed contract for employes of the Celanese Corporation of America

General meetings will be held today at the State Armory where members will vote on the new con-

There was no official statement from the management of the union, but it was reliably reported that the proposed contract contains wage increases for workers in several departments. Other details of the contract were not divulged.

The terms of contracts covering two departments have been "initialed" by the management and the union negotiators, it was reported. The employes will vote whether to accept or reject the pact.

The previous contract expired last August and was extended at intervals during the lengthy negotiaions between company officials and
